STARVATION WAGES. -The cry of those in the world who are doomed to incressant toi', and that, too, at such pay as will barely provide sufficient coarse food to prevent actual status i n is often heard though seldom sympathized with by those who have been "bleesed in their backet and their store." The following is said to have to nally occurred in the great of y of New York, with all its church spires and inumerable institations of succor for fallen humani y:

"A widow, who feared that the wholesalers for whom she works might take her work from her if she should publish her name exhibited some shires Sunday for making which her two | TILIZER, composed of South Carolina Bone, dang hters are paid 45: a dezio. She said: "We livs about four miles from Fulton ferry, and my yourgest boy walks to the ferry and crosses in the one cent hours to get the work from the New York dealers, and the next day with haif a dezen shirts in his arms, he goes to New York and gets the money.'

From the above it will be readily seen how studies can be exhibited in faroisbing stores marked down at such low figures, while the prerrieters smoke leisure y and await customers. R member what holy writ says about the cries of laborers entering into the ears of the Lord of

Alexandria Gazette and Virginia Advertiser

[From the Lynchburg News.] The Alexandria Gazette has reached the good old age of eighty-three, but has all the vigor and spring of youth.

[From the Warrenton Index ] The Alexandria Gazette enters upon its 83rd year on the ist of January. Its vigor and enterprise increase with time.

[F.om the Baltimorean ] The Alexandria Gazatte has entered upon its 831 volume. It is only old in years, however. In enterprise it is still youthful and full of vigor.

[From the Gordonsville Gazatte.] The Alexandria Gazatte has commenced its eighty-third volume, and is one of the best edited papers in Virginia. We wish it a continuous su.caes.

[From the Rici mond State ] On New Year's day the Alexandria Grantte reached its eighty-third year, and is the oldest paper in the Commonwealth. May it live a thousand years.

[From the Marlboro, Md., Gazatte.] With the New Year the Alexandria Gazatte reached its 83d year. It is the oldest and best newspaper in Virginia, and is conducted with such conservatism and ability as command and receive a liberal support.

[From the Loudoun Mirrior ] On Monday, the Alexandria Gazette entered upon the eighty third year or its existence. The Gazette is a good paper, and we hope, notwithstanding its old age, that there are yet in store for it many years of increased and increasing

[From the Leesburg Washinston.] The Alexandria Gazette, that admirable and well conducted paper, entered upon its eighty-third year on Monday last. The Gazette is an able and consistent advecate of the State credit -and the true policy of the State. May it continue to prosper.

[From the Frederichsburg News]
The Alexandria Grante, clarum et venerabile, ent red upon its eighty-third volume Jan-uary 25, an age attained by few papers in this The Grzette, like old wine, only improves with age, and we heartily wish it many happy returns of a prosperous appiversary.

[From the Charlottesville Chronicle ] That venerable journal, the Alexandria Ga-zette, one of the best capers published in Virginia or cut of it, entered upon its 83rd volume last Monday. It presses onword with vigor, its 'natural force' unabated by the lapse of time or the readjustments of politics.

From the Staunton Vindicator. That lusty and vigorous visux garcon of the Virginia pross the "Alexandria Gazette," has attained its cighty-third year. Edgar Snowden is its etilor. Men may come and men may go, but the old "Gazette" keeps up the enterprise and freshness of its you h, when as now it floated the name of Snowden at the mast head.

[From the Norfolk Virginian ] The Alexandria Gazette on the first of the year entered upon the eighty third year of its existence as a journal. Few American journals can show such longevity -a longevity that carries with it all the vigor of young manhood. We congratulate the G.z. tte and express the hope that each new year will bring to it an increase of prosperity.

[From the Rockingham Register.] On Monday last the Alexandria Gazette en-tered upon its Sird year. Like old wine, the Gazette improves with age, and stands to-lay, our humble judgment, without a peer in th Old Dominior. It is always found on the right side, and we hope it may live a thousand years and that its success may be commensurate with its deserts.

[From the Baltimore Gazatte.] On New Year's day the Alexandria Gazette reached its eighty-third year. It has always been conducted with ability, courtery and enterprise, and well deserves the support it has so long enjoyed. May it never grow less, but con-tinue to exercise its wholesome influence on public intelligence and morals. Edgar Snowden has been at the most head long enough for old men to remember it. The paper is the oldest

[From the Bridge water (Vs.) Journal.] Eighty-two years ago that able, well conducted and popular newspaper, the "Alexandria Gazette," was born into the newspaper world. Like a leaf snaken by the wind, men at eighty grow feeble and their limbs totter. But not so with the Gazatto. We would not like to say how long we have been one of its readers, for that would make us young no more; but we will say that we read the Giz the before we read Crear and Flutareb, and it is as young now and se tu lot tife, as it was forty years ago. PREMIUM SAFETY OIL. - We desire par-ticularly to call the attention of our custom-ers to this Oil, our sales of which are largely increasing and with entire satisfaction to all using it. It is absolutely safe and non-explosive under all circumstances, water-white in color, burns with a beautiful, soft and brilliant light, and being much less volatile, does not consume so fast and is therefore in reality no more expen-sive than coal oil. No change of lamp or burner seeded as it is used in the same manner as ordinary coal cil. Price twenty five ceuts per gal-lon. On receipt of two dollars we will deliver free on board cars or toat in Alexandria a five-gellon box shipping can of the Safety Uil maik ed to any address desired. JANNEY & CO.,

THE WINDSOR COFFEE POT!

We have just received another invoice of Windsor Coffee Pots, pronounced by all who bave used them "the best." We have been selling them for more than four years, and have yet to hear the first complaint. They make coffee by the only true principle. It boils and drips at the same time, thus getting the entire strength. We have sold them to not only the best house keepers in this city, but in all sec-tions of the State.
